Siena College Annual MLK Art and Writing Invitational

Saint Pius X students had their art and writings pieces selected for display this year at Siena College's Annual Martin Luther King Art and Writing Invitational. This year's theme is the Native American Proverb "We will be known forever by the tracks that we leave."

Nia, one of our 8th grade students, was one of 6 students in the Capital Region to have her art displayed around the room as a promotion for the show. We are so proud of all our students. For more pictures from the show, please visit our facebook page.

Congratulations to all of our winners!!
